

JOKO IN BERLIN

“BEAUTEOUS”

Beauteous is the third single produced and recorded by Joko in berlin. The song talks about the writer's journey struggling with anxiety disorder; an endless and unexplainable feeling in which the writer thinks that her demise is lurking behind her shadow; ready to pounce on her at any time, any moment.

In any ways, Beauteous is one of those songs where the writer is the singer in the band and singing about insecurities and emotional setbacks she has to face off stage leading to her performance of frontmanship; going from one panic attack to another. In a way, the song is a personal statement that the writer would share to others experiencing the same disorder as the writer herself. The moral of the song is to embrace the negativity and the pain of anxiety disorder and to just keep on going; knowing that logic surpasses all illogical induced panic attacks and paranoias.

For this single, the band collaborated with Creative director Adi Winoto and shot a video clip in Japan; featuring Model Elizabeth Angel Lorenza. The song is written by the band's very own vocalist; Mellita and arranged by Popo Fauza.
